Testimonial

For: Dido Panagiotopoulos
Compiled by: Dr Radmila Razlog
HOD: Department of Homoeopathy
Faculty of Health Sciences, University of Johannesburg

Dido Panagiotopoulos first became involved with the University of Johannesburg in 2012 as a part-time lecturer for the Department of Homoeopathy, and worked in this position for five years.

Dido was the key developer and expert lecturer for the counselling component of the Auxiliary Therapeutics module for our third year students. Good counselling skills are a vital component of our profession as well as our curriculum, and Dido was instrumental in developing the content of this aspect of the module, which enabled the students to develop effective practical skills that can be applied to a variety of different patient scenarios.

Students have over the years always commented on Dido's professionalism, philosophical enquiring mind, approachable demeanor and abundant knowledge. Her patient-focused sincerity and patience with students reflects her compassion, concern and empathy. Dido showed dedication to her students with a genuine sense of concern and a desire to enable them to succeed in their chosen profession. She displays excellent communication skills and is a good team player.

Dido is a committed to the education and professional development of her students. She is always motivational, "teaches by example" and entrenches the fundamental importance of life-long learning. She has a keen sense of responsibility, breeds dedication, is motivated to do what is right, and in many instances may go beyond the call for duty.

I wish Dido the very best in her future initiatives, in striving to attain her lifelong goals. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any additional information.

Kind regards
